

MADDOG CHALLENGE: Seek To Understand

This past year has been one of unprecedented change and challenge. I feel as if the world is becoming more divided, more polarized, and more divisive. As I stop to pause and reflect I often wonder how Greg would have reacted and responded in such circumstances. What comes to mind is “seek to understand.” I believe he would want us to judge less and listen more. And I believe he would practice doing this with love and compassion. So for this year's Team Maddog Challenge: I invite us to look inward, to see where we stand, and to decide how we want to “show up.”

Go Team Maddog!

Love, Jan
